DEATH TOLL IN STORM AREAS IS RAISED TO 158

Unverified Report of 15 Killed at Stovall, Ga., May Make It 173.

WIRES BEING RESTORED

No Accurate Estimates of Property
Damage Are Available; Total in Illinois Placed at $6,000,000, Ohio and Michigan at $2,000,000 Each.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 30.—The death toll of Sunday's tornadoes, which ripped paths of destruction through sections of eight states, stood today at 158, with fears expressed that reports from isolated regions and deaths among injured might increase the total.

Stricken communities were emerging today from the wreckage wrought by the storm and relief measures for the injured and thousands of homeless were well under way. Wire communication in the affected areas was being restored and this was expected to aid in clearing up the extent of the destruction and the total number of those who lost their lives.

Tabulated reports by states today gave the number of deaths as follows: Indiana, 38—Adams county, two; Allen county, 11; Jay county, 11; Steuben county, one; Montgomery county, one; Union City, 10.

Illinois, 27—Eight, seven; Iroquois Park, six; Melrose Park, 10; Maywood, two.

Ohio, 38—Greenville and Nashville, eight; Van Wert, three; Mounton, three; Erie and Brunersburg, six; Geneva, two; Raabs Corners, four.

Georgia, 38—La Grange, 26; West Point, 10; Macon, one; Milner, one; Michigan, 12—Fenton, four; Maple Grove, three; Cold Water, two; Hart, one; Kalamazoo, one; Yankee Springs, one.

Alabama, 17—Alexander, 11; Agricultural five; Cedar Springs, one; St. Louis, one.

East Troy, Wis., one.

An unverified report that 15 white persons were killed at Stovall, Ga., was being investigated. If true the death toll would be increased to 173.

No accurate estimates of the property damage, which runs into the millions, had been made today. In Illinois it was estimated that the damage last night was $6,000,000; in western Ohio, $2,000,000; Michigan, $2,000,000; and Georgia, more than $1,000,000.

State troops patrolled the storm's worst areas of Illinois today and the Red Cross and civilian relief committees organized aid for the injured and homeless. Hundreds of carpenters in Illinois had cleared away most of the wreckage.

WEST SIDE WOMAN WOUNDS MAN WHEN HE ATTACKS HER

Mrs. Tony Scarella Puts Up
Desperate Battle With Holdup Man.

Attacked in her home in Twelfth street, West Side, by a thug about 9 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Tony Scarella put up a hard struggle and, finally breaking away from the robber, ran upstairs, secured a revolver, and shot him in the arm. He made his getaway and is being sought for by the police. An investigation of the affair was conducted by Patrolman P. M. Ruhl.

Mrs. Scarella, who is in a very nervous condition after her experience, said the man entered the house this morning and, closing the door behind him, pointed a revolver at her, demanding "money or your life." Frightened, she screamed. The intruder grasped her and placed his hand over her mouth. She struggled fiercely and in the battle suffered severe treatment at the hands of the man. Much of her clothing was torn off, her hair was pulled and there are two deep scratches on her face and shoulder.

When she broke away and ran upstairs the man did not follow, fearing to attempt climbing the stairs which are dark. Standing on the steps the woman, who had secured the revolver, fired a shot. The first went into the door and the second struck the man in the left arm. He uttered a cry of pain and ran. The woman summoned aid and her husband was sent for the police later being notified.

AVERAGE CHURCH MEMBER GIVES LESS THAN THREE CENTS A DAY TO CAUSE

Startling Facts Presented in
"The Statistical Mirror."

TITHES ON 27-CENT WAGE

"The Statistical Mirror," an illustrated lecture based on facts developed in the preparation for the Inter-church World Movement campaign April 25 to May 2, was delivered in the Christian church Monday night by Rev. H. A. Baum of Dawson, lecturer for the movement, who recently returned from the South after an extensive tour and who is to continue his travels up to the time of the beginning of the financial canvass.

Many facts and figures designed to show that members of Protestant churches in giving were presented. As a whole the Protestant bodies, a slide indicated, tithes (give a tenth) on the basis of a daily wage of 27 cents. In other words members of the churches, on the average, give two and seven-tenths cents a day for all purposes—home and foreign. In one denomination, the name of which was not given, the membership gives at the rate of a penny every hundred days.

Statistics show, Rev. Baum said, that the lowest wage paid in the United States when the figures were assembled, for 1918, was 57 cents a day—to the Alabama railroadman. Yet, he said, if Protestantism in the United States tithes on the basis of the minimum wage there would have been a margin of $276,000,000, above all church expenses for the year 1918.

Rev. Baum talked an hour and a half, using about 150 slides. Rev. I. G. Nace presided. The stereopticon was loaned by Secretary W. F. Underwood of the Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Baum has been summoned to a conference in New York Thursday at which time he will be assigned to another tour. He has been asked to go out as a member of a team of three for a visitation of 15 cities. The lecture will differ from that given here.

WESTMORELAND PAYROLL
INCREASES 30 MILLIONS
IN THREE-YEAR PERIOD

Total for 1918 $78,622,000, Compared
With $48,711,300 in 1915; Industry
Gains $50,000,000.

GREENSBURG, March 30.—Increases in the valuation of manufactured products in Westmoreland county of more than $50,000,000 in three years were shown in reports submitted to Secretary of Internal Affairs James F. Woodward by M. Hoke Gotschall, chief of the Bureau of Statistics and Information in the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs.

During 1916, the value of all the manufactured products in Westmoreland county was $38,043,100 and in 1917 the total jumped to $38,543,300. The year 1918 witnessed further increases in business and production in the 12 months had a value of $48,711,300.

Increased production valuation was brought about with fewer employees in 1918 than there were in 1916 and likewise there was an increase in wages of approximately $30,000,000 in 1918 over 1916, although the number of employees in 1918 was 2,000 fewer than in 1916.

During the three-year period the annual payroll in Westmoreland county increased approximately $30,000,000. In 1916 the payroll total was $48,711,300 and in 1917 it amounted to $55,126,800. Notwithstanding that there were over 2,000 fewer employees in 1918 than in 1917, the payroll took another bound and the total for the year was $78,622,000. Of the total amount paid in wages in 1918 male employees received $77,575,600 and 600, and the female workers were paid $1,037,200.

SAMUEL A. KENDALL,
CONGRESSMAN, BOOSTS
COMPANY D FUND $100

Genuine Pleasure to Contribute," He Says; "War Horses" to Finish Drive
Tomorrow; Sponsors Active.

The Company D Fund was given a substantial boost this morning when the mails brought a check for $100 from Congressman Samuel A. Kendall. Having learned through The Courier of the effort friends of the company are making to raise this fund, Mr. Kendall promptly wrote to a member of the reorganization committee saying:

I assure you it gives me genuine pleasure to contribute to the Company D Tenth Regiment Fund, and I am therefore enclosing my check payable to Mr. A. B. Reed, treasurer, for $100.

I am glad of the opportunity to have my name on the list of contributors.

The check of Mr. Kendall is the largest single contribution made to the fund. Several for $50 have been received and many in smaller amounts.

The fund was given a boost by the report of T. J. Hooper's team with an additional $72. This brings the total reported to date to $1,187 as collected by canvassing teams. A subscription of $5 secured through a coupon which has been running in The Courier was received this morning. The grand total in Treasurer A. B. Reed's hands is now $1,238. The goal of the fund is $3,000.

Teams which have already completed their territories have taken up the ground and the prospect cards of the other canvassers are being worked hard to complete the drive. One thing is certain—that it will go on until the $3,000 is subscribed. If Connellsville citizens do not contribute more liberally than last week the campaign may continue until Saturday.

It is planned that several of the "war horses" of the "Fathers Across," who have been otherwise engaged for some time, will get into the game tomorrow with the determination of putting the drive over the top without further delay.

Another recruit for Company D, making a total of 66, was secured last evening through the efforts of the sponsors. The young man who "signed up" was Louis J. Cobb, aged 18, of Snyderstown. He has had no previous military experience.

For the purpose of discussing plans for the enlargement of their organization, and making it still more active in campaigning, the sponsors held a meeting at the high school this afternoon after school hours.

BURNED TO DEATH

Clothing of Woman Catches Fire at Store in New Geneva Home.

Awakened by smoke of something burning about 7:30 o'clock this morning, Miss Estella Carey of New Geneva went to the room of her mother, Mrs. Frances Carey, and found her body lying across a bed, burned to a crisp.

The woman, it is thought, had arisen to warm herself by a stove and her night clothes catching fire had the presence of mind to run to the bed in an endeavor to extinguish them. Before she could do this, however, the burns caused her death.

LOWER TYRONE TO BE SCENE OF OIL,
GAS OPERATIONS

Scottsdale and Johnstown Capitalists to Begin Development Work.

WAS PLANNED LONG AGO

Simulated to Action Now By Progress in Other Fields; Have 436
Acres at and Near Where Fayette
Anticline Is Crossed by Jacobs Creek

A gas and oil development project which has long been planned, but now stimulated to action by progress in other fields, is to be made in Lower Tyrone township. On four tracts of land, aggregating 486 acres, the Creek Hill Oil & Gas company, composed of Scottsdale and Johnstown capitalists and experienced oil men, is shortly to begin the work of drilling.

The properties consist of 37 acres owned in fee by H. W. Gordon, one of the directors of the company. This is located about three miles from Dawson, and about four miles northeastward from the Flatwoods field, already a producer, and is surrounded by leases of the Fayette County and Greensboro Gas companies. Another tract of 91 acres, known as the Terrence lease, adjoins the first. Another tract of 340 acres is owned in fee by George K. Brennan, a director of the company and is located in Lower Tyrone township, Fayette county, and East Huntingdon township, Westmoreland county. It is near the apex of the Fayette anticline at the point where Jacobs Creek crosses the anticline. The fourth tract is known as the "Christine" lease, somewhat farther south along the anticline and near a test well. All of these tracts adjoin leases held by large gas producing companies.

Myron I. Fuller, author of the geological folio covering the Brownsville-Connellsville quadrangles, published in 1902, stated that the section on the Fayette anticline and its eastern slope, where the anticline crosses Jacobs Creek, "is most favorable for development of new fields."

The prospectors of the new company have long contemplated development in this section, making their preliminary plans long before the McKeesport field came into prominence. Believing the prospects for securing oil are as good, if not better, than for securing gas, the owners have decided to begin operations as soon as possible.

F. B. Cook, a prominent coal operator of Johnstown, is president and treasurer of the company, which is capitalized at $200,000. John H. Gordon, known in Connellsville as a former lieutenant of Company D, Tenth Regiment, and with the Freedom Oil company for six years is vice president and general manager; D. M. Jenkins of Johnstown is secretary. Their officers and George K. Brennan, son of the late John P. Brennan, of Scottsdale, Dan L. Parsons of Johnstown, and H. W. Gordon of Scottsdale, form the board of directors. H. W. Gordon, with the Freedom Oil company in Pennsylvania for many years, and later with the Heard Oil & Gas company, Texas, will be field manager.

MISSISSIPPI
SENATE VOTES FOR SUFFRAGE

Action of Several Weeks Ago
Reversed; Battle Renewed in Delaware.

By Associated Press.

JACKSON, Miss., March 30.—The Mississippi state senate today reversed the federal woman suffrage movement, thus reversing the action of several weeks ago when the amendment was rejected.

DOVER, Del., March 30.—The house committee on revised statutes to which the joint resolution for the ratification of equal suffrage had been referred today voted four to three to report the measure out "on its merits." The negative votes were cast by Democrats.

The senate Republicans forced through a motion to adjourn, thus preventing a committee report on the ratification resolution which the Democratic senators were insisting upon.

Both the senate and house committees probably will report the ratification resolution this afternoon so that a vote may be taken tomorrow.

The opinion here is that the senate will probably delay a test of strength until after the house has acted.

The club had been one of the strongest of its kind in the college prior to the war, and the reorganization is voted a great success. The last meeting of the club was in 1916, and plans are already being made for the future work of the club.

The following officers have been elected: R. H. Junk, Uniontown, president; E. Lettoworth, Uniontown, vice-president; L. H. Reis, Uniontown, treasurer; and R. S. Jones, Uniontown, secretary.

Preparing for the coming Easter vacation, which starts at noon on Wednesday, March 31, the president appointed the following as a transportation committee to make arrangements for getting the Fayette county men home as soon as possible: P. D. Martin, 20, Perryopolis, I. H. Coldron, 22, Uniontown, and G. I. Daugherty, 24, Connellsville. Automobiles have been engaged to take the men to Tyrone.

Gans, who will be graduated in the course in home economics in June; Miss Elizabeth Kurtz and Miss Wilma Kail, both first-year students in the home economics course.

One of the first matters of business accomplished by the club was to make arrangements for members to speak to high school students in Fayette county during the Easter recess. They will tell the high school classes all about Penn State. R. H. Junk, a sophomore in the course of commerce and finance, will speak to the Uniontown high students; D. E. Kurtz, a junior in electrical engineering at the Connellsville high school; "Red" Lettoworth, a junior in the pre-engineering course, who is vice president of the college Red Head club at Fairbairn, and L. V. Turner of West Leisenring, who is studying electrical engineering, to the students at the Duncas township high school.

License Applicants in Somerset County Also Demand Fee Return.

By Associated Press.

SOMERSET, March 30.—All applicants for licenses at the recent session of license court have filed a motion in Judge Berkey's court, asking for a rehearing of their applications, which were refused. No reasons why it should be granted were given.

The license holders also filed a petition for a rule on the state treasurer, the county treasurer and the auditor general to show cause why the sums paid as licenses from July 1 of last year should not be refunded, the contention being that they were not permitted to sell liquor after that date and that the collection of a license fee under the circumstances was illegal. No date was set for a hearing on the petition.

ALBANY, March 30.—Charges of unfitness against the five Socialist members of the New York state assembly have been sustained by a majority of the assembly judiciary committee in a 20-9 vote report submitted to the legislature today. It says their seats should be declared vacant.

The Socialist assemblymen, including states "are not obedient to the constitution and law of the United States nor the state of New York, nor desirous of the welfare of the country nor in hearty accord and sympathy with its government and institutions."

No estimate was made of the flow, but it is reported to be very strong.

The Olympia well in upper Snake hollow, on the Kellerman lease, has a flow of 11,779,900 feet, according to a test made yesterday. The W. D. Mansfield well at Versailles has a flow of 6,000,000 feet; instead of 2,500,000 feet as previously reported.

WASHINGTON DEFENSE

TO MUCH FOR FRATS.

With a perfect five-man defense which, Unity Fraternity could not penetrate, "Pat" Henry's Washington Collegians, walked away with an easy victory, last night, in the high school gymnasium, with the final score of 57-18.

The game displayed by the victors showed the class in team work. Such playing has not been seen on any floor here this season. Their passing was perfect. Ellison was the chief goal getter for the heavy visiting clan, with Henry, of the fat twins, next in order. Carroll merely showed why he is rated W and J's all-star, which was enough. Kaiser and Jones's playing was a sight to appease the most critical.

Henry, our own local, was the only man to score equally with Brown more than one field goal for the home team. His second and last field goal from far down the cage was the most spectacular feature of the game. Brown also made one of those deep centre goals in the beginning of the game which encourage the team but the effect soon wore off. While the playing of the locals was inferior to that of the Collegians, they put up a good game, in view of their long lay off.

In a preliminary game the Y. M. C. A. Juniors defeated the South Side Preps by the final score of 36-17. The playing of McNutt and McCormick was the outstanding feature. The summary:

S. S. Preps. Y. M. C. A. Jun.
Donnadio. F. McCormick
Brown. F. Soisson
Frutcher. C. Henry
May. G. McNutt
Miller. G. Ross

Field goals—Donnadio 2, Miller 1, McCormick 6, Soisson 2, Henry 1, McNutt 5.
Foul goals—McCormick 1 out of 5, Soisson 4 out of 9.

GIRL BASKETEERS WIN

10, LOSS, 2 IN SEASON.

The Connelville High school should feel justly proud of the splendid record made by the girls' team of basketball players. The team personnel includes the Misses Leona McManus, Caroline Tennent, Alice Kramer, Frances Buttermore, Dorothy McClaren, Savilla Struble, Garnet Guyan, Lillian Fraiks, Frances Myers, Rosella Gwynn, Clotilde Love, Ruth Levy and Ethel Newkirk. The team was ably coached by Miss A. Mellon whose efforts to produce a winning team, were total of 12 games played.

Out of a total of 12 games played this season the young ladies won 10, losing but two, and in turn defeated the teams in their next time out, a truly remarkable record. Of the 12 games, the team made a record in the total of winning points, with a net total of 318 while their opponents of the complete schedule totaled but 128 points.

The C. H. S. girls' complete schedule and results of 1920:

INDIGESTION

Caused by

Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—heartburn, flatulence, bloating, food poisoning, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless, unsatisfactory to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, headache, indigestion, impaired blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental ailments that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The first thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous results. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be free of acid-stomach in a few days. Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

One of Most Interesting Exponents of Green Cloth Game.

Distinguished Himself on Coming to This Country by Defeating Willie Hoppe—Masse Shot Is His Strong Point.

Koji Yamada, the little Jap. from Tokyo, the land that made the cherry blossom famous, is one of the most interesting of billiard players. He left Japan about 1910 and went to Berlin, Germany, to study medicine and bacteriology and became a doctor, but one of the germs called a billiard bug got into his blood and he became a billiard player instead. He came to this country in 1912 and entered a professional tournament and immediately distinguished himself by beating Hoppe, much to the surprise of everybody, including Hoppe himself.

Short of stature with a big mass of black hair, he moves about the table slowly, never in a hurry, careful and deliberate, and if he was ever nervous in his life nobody has ever suspected it. He takes his good and bad luck with an equal air of indifference that suggests a fatalist.

Yamada's general style of play is something of the Hoppe system. He does not specialize in any one thing. Yamada uses a short cue of 18-ounce weight. His stroke is quick and short and snappy. He bends over in shooting so that his chin almost touches his cue. He is a good executor. Just before coming from San Francisco, where he now makes his home, in playing red ball in an academy there he ran 63, which is a record for the academy. Rough or red ball is a game where the player must play from the red ball each time.

Yamada's one special outstanding strong point is the masse shot. Even the other players concede this thin distinction. Some of his fancy exhibition masse shots are nothing less than wonderful. Yamada has a pleasing personality, makes friends readily and is well liked everywhere.

The United States Golf Association is composed of 463 clubs.

Johnny Griffith's boxing has made a big hit in England and France.

The Boston Yacht club has a membership of 420 and a fleet of 167 boats.

Wisconsin Athletic Association has been incorporated to hold boxing bouts in Milwaukee.

George Vernet, 18-year-old swimming wonder of Montreal, will compete in the Olympic games.

Sir Thomas Lipton says he is going to win the American cup this time. That's what we would call being an optimist.

Mike Collins, formerly manager of Fred Fulton, is one of the incorporators of the new Minnesota Boxing club at Minneapolis.

Joe May devoted his time to basketball this winter. Track critics believe it is an injurious sport for the crack runner to indulge in.

B. W. Griffith, head of the department of romance languages, of Bucknell University, has been appointed acting manager of athletics.

George Decker, coach of the Penn boxing team, has boxed with 4,000 Penn students three rounds each for a total of 12,000—since 1900.

Spacious athletic stadiums are now under consideration for Atlantic City, New Orleans, Ohio State University and the University of Illinois.

His Little Boy A Mass of Sores

Writes W. C. Warren of Millers, Virginia, and he adds:

"We tried two good doctors, one a specialist on skin diseases and they did him no good. We used 7 bottles of D. D. D. and his face, which was simply a mass of sores, is now smooth as paper."

Thousands of grateful users of D. D. D. have written to tell of the wonderful relief it gave them when one application completely stopped itching and burning. Why get D. D. D. at once and be convinced? Your money back if it does not do just what is claimed. 50c. 60c. and 1.00. Try D. D. D. Send, too.

"Here we are, in tip-top shape"

—Chesterfield

AND that's the way that Chesterfields always reach you—firm, fresh and in prime shape for smoking with all of their flavor and freshness intact.

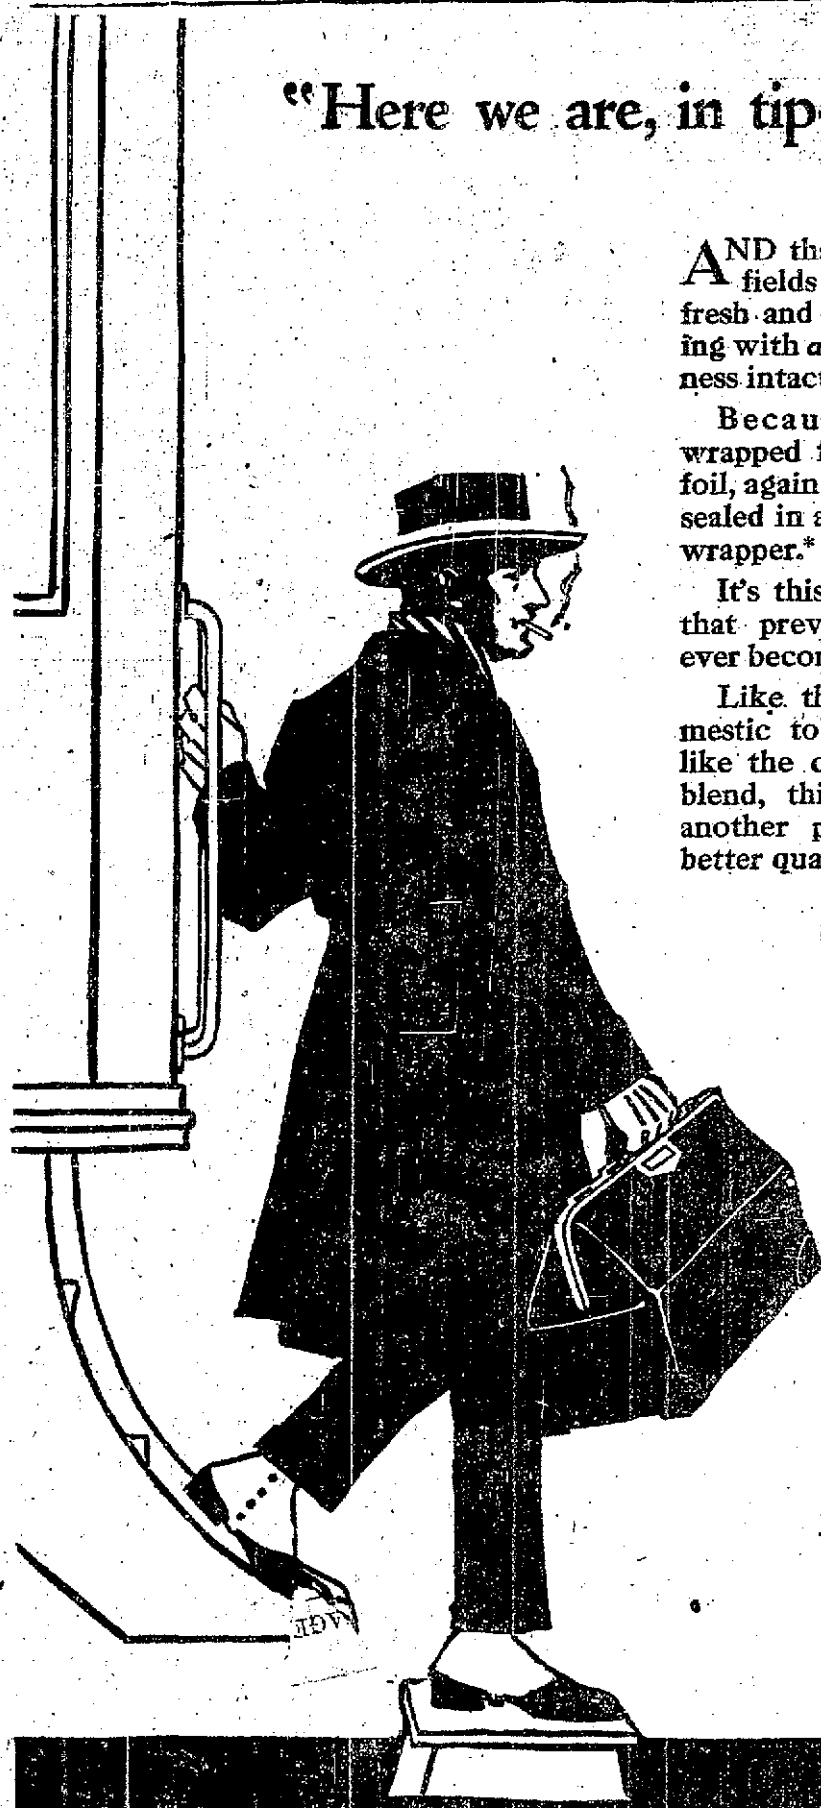

Because Chesterfields are wrapped first in paper, then in tin foil, again in paper and then finally sealed in an air-tight, glassine paper wrapper.*

It's this last and extra wrapping that prevents Chesterfields from ever becoming too moist or too dry.

Like the fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos in Chesterfields—like the can't-be-copied "satisfy" blend, this special wrapping is another proof of Chesterfield's better quality and greater value.

Littleton's Tobacco Co.

*That extra wrapper, mind you, is the thing that keeps the flavor in.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAR. 30, 1937.

WE CANNOT BREAK FAITH WITH THE BOYS.

With the record of never having failed to go over the top in a single campaign conducted in Conneltsville during the war, and with the most recent success of the same kind presented by the Baptists to add to our renown as a place where big things are done in a big way, are we to discredit all our past accomplishments by failing to raise the comparatively small sum of $3,000 for the Company D Fund?

Have we become so selfishly absorbed in our own affairs that we have no interest in providing a hundred or more of the community's outstanding, loyal young men with an equipment and facilities at the armory of such character as will be a means of furnishing clean sports, healthful exercise and stimulating recreation under circumstances that will promote wholesome influences and surroundings?

Have our protestations of pride in a local institution like Company D been only make-believe?

Do we really want Conneltsville to retain the distinction of being the military and patriotic center of Fayette county, or are we content that such honor go elsewhere?

Do we want to make it easy for Company D to get away from the necessity of holding public dances as a means of raising funds, to which there is more or less objection?

Do you want Company D's membership to be made up of clean, self-respecting, fine-spirited young men whom we would be glad to have as tent-mates and "bunkies" for our own sons in the service, or those to whom the better things in companionship make no appeal?

You cannot evade making answer to these questions. Not directly, of course, but by the manner in which you respond to the call that has been made to meet the city's opportunity and obligation to do so, and even more than needed, to make Company D all that the many boys who have already enlisted expect it to be.

There have unbounded confidence that the citizens of Conneltsville will stand behind this organization just as loyally as the company throughout its history, has been loyal to the town, the state and the nation.

You cannot break faith with these boys and retain the right to be accounted worthy of their confidence. You cannot fall down on the job of raising this fund and lay claim to being a public-spirited, boosting citizen of Conneltsville.

A TORRENT OF SPENDERS.

We have no need to go outside of Conneltsville to find those persons whom a writer, depicting the extraordinary rush of the throngs in New York, calls "A torrent of spenders."

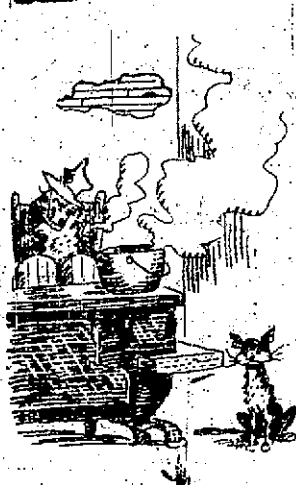

"We read," says the authority mentioned, "of the great annual influx of visitors to New York which the hotels are preparing to cope with and which is already under way. Hotel bars are being fitted up with tiers of berths like Pullman sleeping cars, ball-rooms are being turned into dormitories, and waiting rooms and other luxury spaces changed into use for travelers. It is expected that the number of visitors will surpass the record of last year, when the soldiers returned from across the water."

"The great prosperity of the country, and not any special event, is bringing travelers here, and trains from all quarters, steamers from Europe and South America, and motor cars from every direction, are carrying transients in this direction."

"What are these vast crowds thinking and talking about? A listener in any hotel lobby hears constant, ceaseless, ever-rising talk between groups and individuals about what they have bought, how much they paid, what they still intend to buy. This is the ruling subject of conversation rising above all other topics—a sure sign of a newly-rich crowd, a recently-created torrent of spenders boasting of their purchases, bidding up prices, and absorbing all offerings, unconsciously doing their utmost to swell the tide of rising prices."

Right here at home we have daily instances of extravagance differing from those witnessed in New York and other large cities only in degree, not in kind. Persons earning big wages buy the highest priced articles of wear and personal adornment to be found in the stores, spending their money as recklessly as if the supply of it were inexhaustible. They give no thought whatever to the relation their orgy of spending bears to the continued rise in prices, or how extravagance is forming one of the most stubborn obstacles to a restoration of normal living conditions. They utterly disregard the fact that production of the essentials is what the world is hungering for, and that the making, purchase and use of non-essentials and luxuries, which absorb vast amounts of credit and labor, must be eliminated before prices seek a level within the reach of the common people.

But the spenders want none of it. They continue to demand highest priced silk shirts, richest velvets, most costly jewelry and the latest model automobiles. They forget the homely but age-old proverb that "Wifely waste makes woeful want," and are blindly oblivious of the signs here and there appearing that in due time there will be a reckoning.

America is Going on High

Latrebia Bulletin.

One may travel for several miles thru town or country, and see little or no evidence of new building operations.

Yet strange to say, the artisans who put up walls, who fit boards, who install plumbing, who lay roofing, and so on, appear to be busy, while one must truck load after truck load of building materials upon the roads.

It has been so right thru the war period and the post-war period—yet in some communities of good size one could count on one's two hands the total number of new houses erected within the past four years.

It is plain, from this condition, that the building developments of the present must be largely industrial in their character. They are connected with the enlargements of industrial plants, or else they are connected with repairs.

Nobody is building, apparently, yet the artisans are busy, and the trucks of lumber are moving by right along. It is a rather curious situation.

It is a situation, however, that is not confined to the building trade alone.

Some families at least must be using less meat than they did before meat became so high; some families must have cut down on their consumption of eggs; less sewing must be under way than when one could send to the store at any time and buy a spool of O. N. T. for a nickel.

Yet meat and eggs and thread and everything else appear to continue scarce—and high.

Probably it is all as clear as day to Mr. Babson and other economic experts, but it isn't clear to those who have but a smattering of knowledge regarding the laws of political economy.

The great majority of people seem to be living on the fat of the land. The automobile factories may be working 24 hours a day, at top speed, in an endeavor to supply the demand.

But communities and counties and states and nations are not getting on very far, unless there is manifest evidence of expansion and of improvement having permanent form.

A house laps in a few years. America is going on high—that's about the size of it.

Just Folks

Edgar A. Guest.

WHAT HOME'S INTENDED FOR.

When the young folks gather round the good old-fashioned way, singing all the latest songs gathered from the newest play.

Or they start the phonograph and shove the record back to the wall.

An' hold a little party dance, I'm happiest of all.

Then I sorter settle back, plumb "contented watchin' her."

As I feel myself most proudly, that's what home's intended for.

When the laughter's gaily ringin' an' the room is filled with song, I like to sit an' watch 'em all that glad an' merry throng.

For the lightness they are playin' on the old piano there.

Beats any high-toned music where the bright lights shine an' glare.

An' the racket they are makin' seems to make my pulses stir.

So I whisper in my gladness, that's what home's intended for.

Then I smile an' say to mother, let 'em move the chairs about.

Let 'em fiddle in the parlor, let 'em shove the tables out.

Just so long as they are near us, just so long as they will stay.

By the fireplace we are keepin' harm will never come their way.

As you'll never hear me grumble at the bills that may occur.

For the damage they are doin'—that's what home's intended for.

YOUR CHANCE TO INVEST IN THE YOUNG MANHOOD OF CITY

During the war we contributed generously and freely to the Y. M. C. A., the K. of C., the War Chest and other agencies to provide means for establishing recreational and athletic activities for the boys of the whole nation who were in the training camps and overseas. The benefits derived therefrom were reflected in every young man called into the service of his country.

Now that the young men of Conneltsville and vicinity are enlisting in the service of the state by enrolling with Company D, Tenth Infantry, N. G. P., we have proportionately as great an opportunity to provide for them as we earlier provided for the millions with the colors in 1917-18. It is as much a duty now as then. Failing in it you will be evading a responsibility and neglecting an opportunity to invest in the young manhood of Conneltsville.

You can discharge that obligation by making out a check for a sum that represents your interest in your own and your neighbors' sons, attaching it to the coupon below, and mailing to A. B. Hood, Treasurer, Company D Fund, Conneltsville.

Miss Jean Smith Becomes Bride of Chester
Painter.

WILL RESIDE AT VANDERGRIFT

James Harkins, former company E, to attend reunion of 24th Division at Atlanta, Mrs. Stevenson enters the Saturday Afternoon Club.

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, March 29—Miss S. Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Smith, and Chester Painter, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Painter, were married very quietly yesterday afternoon at the Smithfield and St. Clair street home of the bride's parents. Rev. J. E. Hartman, pastor of the Re-Union Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Only the immediate friends of the families were present. Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Painter will make their home at Vandergrift where Mr. Painter has taken a position. He was employed at the post office here until last week.

Going to 25th Reunion.

IT GIVES YOU LOTS OF "PEP"

Was in Such Poor Health Didn't Care
Whether School Kept or Not.

"I was all shot to pieces. Felt good for nothing all the time and had become so weak and rundown I didn't care whether school kept or not. I knew I was in bad shape. I knew I ought to be able to find something to get me back on my feet, but what it was I didn't know until I picked up the paper one night and read where folks were taking Earle's Hypo-Cod. I got a bottle right away and it's true. All that weary old tired feeling vanished. I began sleeping like a log. Then my meals tasted good again. I would sit down and eat a big meal. Another thing I noticed was that my nerves quieted down and I guess that's why I sleep so good. I never had a better appetite, either so when it comes to a tonic Earle's Hypo-Cod is the goods. It puts the "pep" back in a man and I recommend it to anyone who feels run-down and on of sorts. A tonic like Earle's Hypo-Cod is all a man needs," declared Mr. W. S. Hanson, 6140 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. Folks think because a druggist suggests a tonic that he is trying to boost sales, but instead a good tonic this time of year will probably save many a person a big doctor and prescription bill later. Read what others say about this new tonic in following issues of this paper. Try a bottle today and see how quickly it puts you back on your feet.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by Bissel & Company, and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price $1.25 plus 5c war tax.—Adv.

MOTHER NATURE MAKES HER GIFT

Compounds in Her Wonderful Laboratory Ingredients for Tanlac.

"Of all the maladies that afflict humanity chronic dyspepsia is probably the most prevalent. The most skilled specialists have been unable to cope successfully with this almost universal malady; but Mother Nature herself, in combination with the best skill in chemistry, has compounded in her wonderful laboratory the most marvelous remedy ever discovered for this ailment."

"Hours might be consumed in describing the sufferings, mentally and bodily, of the victims of chronic dyspepsia, and their absolute failure to heretofore get relief," said the Tanlac Man. "A morbid, unreal, whimsical and melancholy condition of mind, aside from the nervous physical suffering, is the usual condition of the average dyspeptic."

Tanlac, which seems to almost instantly correct this distressing condition, and to make you like old-fashioned people were—strong, sturdy and well—is now sold here by Beighley's Pharmacy, Connelville Drug Store, and H. H. Horningman, and all leading druggists.—Adv.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention The Connelville Courier.—Adv.

You Can Stop That Cough.
Do not imagine that because you have tried various remedies without any permanent benefit that your cough is incurable. Bear in mind that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has cured thousands of them. Why not you? Read what Mrs. J. L. Jones, New Kensington, Pa., says of this remedy: "About a year ago I contracted a severe cold that settled on my lungs and caused a terrible dry hacking cough that alarmed as well as annoyed me. Upon the advice of a druggist I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it relieved me almost immediately."—Adv.

A Friend Recommended Them.
A person often does more good than he realizes when he tells a suffering friend how to get well. J. N. Tobill, clerk, Lake Hotel, Brandywine, Ind., writes: "For weeks I suffered constantly with pains in the muscles of my thigh. I was treated by the doctor for rheumatism but found no relief. Upon recommendation of a friend, I tried Foley Kidney Pills and began to get relief almost immediately." Good for backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day, including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days. Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

BEDFAST EVERY WINTER STOMACH TROUBLE GONE

Mrs. Mershon Found Speedy Relief After 18 Years' Suffering.

"I had suffered from stomach trouble for 18 years and had spent hundreds of dollars doctoring. Every winter I was bedfast most of the time. I commenced taking Mils Emulsion last fall and before I had taken six bottles my stomach trouble disappeared and I have had no return of it since. This is the first winter in 18 years that I have not been bedfast. I am now 52 years old and I can do all the work I want to do with splendid results." Mrs. W. G. Mershon, Brazil, Ind.

Thousands of people who have suffered for years from stomach and bowels troubles as Mrs. Mershon did, have found the same wonderful relief and lasting benefit from Mils Emulsion. Mils Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all cases of constipation. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Mils Emulsion is strongly recommended for those whose sickness has weakened and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach troubles and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. This is the only solid emulsion on record and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Mils Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if it does not relieve your case, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 50c and $1.25 per bottle. The Mils Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Adv.

He couldn't Scratch It Up. James C. Mayfield, N.Y. writes: "My back used to hurt me at times and I could not get straight for half an hour. I took Foley Kidney Pills and have not had the trouble since. I cannot say enough for them and their great work." Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys do their work in ridding the system of the poisonous waste matter that causes so many aches and pains. Sold everywhere. Adv.

Ills of Women. Many women suffer miserably from constipation, causing headache, nervousness and a sallow complexion. They will find that Chamberlain's Tablets invariably bring relief. These tablets are easy to take and pleasant in effect. They only cost a quart. Adv.

Mother! Teach the Children Their Daily Health Duty

You can't be too insistent!

FEW children find pleasure in the things most vital to their physical comfort and health, so it rests with the mother to see that they are done. The child will be grateful after years.

Chief among the functions necessary to the upbuilding of the little body, so that it will not be a dyspeptic, constipated body when it matures, is elimination regularly every morning. If the mother will be insistent and allow nothing to interfere with it, it will soon become a habit, a daily routine that will not be forgotten throughout life.

There are times, however, when nature will not operate unaided. Then give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and the headaches, the biliousness, the torpor will quickly disappear. It acts gently and without griping, and as it contains no narcotics and is pleasant to the taste, it may be given to infants. Thousands of families have been regulated to healthy maturity with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

A bottle can be bought at any drug store. In a large family there is always someone who would feel better for a dose of a good medicine like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington Street, Monaca, Illinois.

Ohio Man Is Modern Wizard

Discovers magic ether compound which loosens a corn so it lifts right out

Good news, spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati genius, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the finger.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, itching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without a particle of pain. It is a sticky substance which breaks when applied and never irritates or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns. Adv.

Influenza Prescription Here From Scotland

Explains How to Kill Germs

Probably the best and surest way to destroy the pernicious germs of influenza, which during an epidemic are everywhere present, is to breathe through nose and mouth deep into the lungs, air made antiseptic by a Scotch formula which druggists call Haeleol. Haeleol mixes with the air you breathe and makes it powerfully antiseptic.

Because it is so very pleasant there are many ways to use it—pour a few drops on handkerchief and hold it in your nose several times a day as you breathe. A multitude of people breathe the vapor that arises after a few drops have been poured into a bowl of boiling water.

Many say the best way is to pour germ-killing Haeleol on your pillow and while you sleep breathe antiseptic air the whole night long. A little folded or that comes with each bottle, tells of many clever ways to breathe Haeleol and destroy flu germs. Connelville Drug Co. dispenses it. Adv.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"THE GUMPS"—A new sunny comic and girlish musical comedy is the attraction at this theatre today.

The numbers, imagined by J. Henri Weber, and developed by J. C. Ruthford—masters at this sort of thing—are graceful and always in place, and the dress modest and tasteful.

The large audiences attracted this season by "The Gumps" and attractions of this calibre, emphasizes the fact that the public wants the music and girl show, with its swift comedy, lively incident and action, bizarre comedians, jazzy music, radiant costumes, nimble dancers and stunning show girls.

It is a reflection of American life and notwithstanding the lamentations of the radical sensibiles, is not only here to stay, but might well be labeled "American Institutions" for in this title there is more truth than its inventors realize.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"SINS OF THE MOTHER"—With Anita Stewart, the popular screen star, in the leading role is being presented today.

Miss Stewart plays the role of Trixie Raymond, a girl, who, as the picture opens, is in her early childhood. It is revealed that her mother, a capable, wealthy widow, is a scientific gambler who secretly owns a fashionable gambling resort which is being conducted under another name.

Even as a child Trixie gives evidence of suffering the gambling taint. The mother, horrified at the evidence of this, sends the girl to a convent for seven years. At the end of this period it appears that Trixie has been purged by religious training of the gambling instinct, but also has been thoroughly submerged in religious thought.

Mrs. Raymond is frightened to learn that her daughter is about to take the vows of a religious order. She persuades the girl to return to the world for at least a year, and, if that she still desires it, to enter the sisterhood.

In the year that follows Trixie is swept back to worldly affairs of the liveliest character. Her gambling fever returns. To save herself as much as to follow the cry of love, she marries Norris Graham, a childhood sweetheart. The gambling fever persists. Trixie's money, jewels, pearls and almost her honor are sacrificed, until finally a climax of startling character brings an end to the girl's experiences.

THE ARCADE.

"HAUK'S SUNSHINE REVUE"—Capacity audiences greeted Arthur Hawk's Sunshine Revue at the Arcade theatre yesterday and judging from the generous applause received throughout the performance it pleased everyone. Patrons pronounced it a "peach of a show from beginning to end."

Helen Kennedy scored a big hit in her initial performance here and no doubt will gain great popularity during her stay in this city. The Four Harmony Bugs put over some great musical selections, Mr. Kleber being especially fine on the violin. Tommy Collins, playing the part of a rube, stopped the show on several occasions. The beauty chorus certainly lives up to the reputation.

Numerous specialties are introduced throughout the comedy. The company will repeat yesterday's bill again today. Tomorrow Mr. Hawk offers "The Winter Garden Review."

DAWSON OPERA HOUSE.

"WOMAN"—Starring Florence Billings, supported by a splendid cast, is today's attraction.

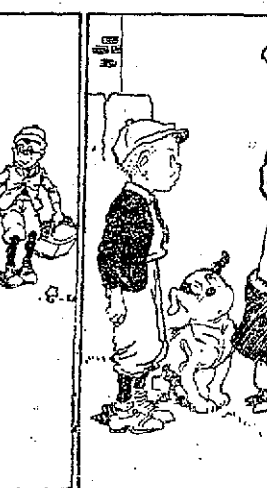

No single descriptive name can be given "Woman." The beautiful Tourneur production does not fall into any one class. It is not a melodrama. Rather it is a study in womanhood of remarkable psychological depth. While it has plenty of physical action, its keynote is mental. Neither is "Woman" a spectacle. It is intimate and personal, the five episodes, with the prologue and epilogue, telling the story of six women and six men. Sometimes hundreds of supernumeraries appear, as in the ancient Roman interlude, but their appearances serve only as a background. Director Tourneur has centered his interest in each episode upon one single woman.

FAVORITE DISHES

The old-fashioned milk toast which our grandmothers made with plenty of butter and flour.

Put a quart of milk in a saucepan and bring it to a boil. Add a tablespoonful of butter and a half teaspoonful of salt. Cook until smooth, add salt and turn over well-buttered toast, the edges of which have been softened by dipping them into hot milk or water. Some like a generous sprinkling of cheese; as this makes a more nourishing dish, it is especially good for a luncheon dish.

Fruit Souffle With Cornstarch.—Mix three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one-third of a cupful of sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt. Stir into one and one-half cupfuls of scalded milk; stir until it thickens, then add three-fourths of a cupful of raisins or cherries cut in halves; cover and let cook ten minutes. Add one tablespoonful of butter and fold in the whites of three eggs beaten very light. Butter six individual molds, dredge the butter with sugar and fill the molds with the cooked preparation. Set the molds on several folds of cloth or paper in a baking pan, pour boiling water to half the height of the molds and cook about 12 minutes. Serve unmolded with cream or a custard made with the egg yolks.

Quick Potato Rolls.—Boil potatoes and press through a ricer. To one cupful of potato and water add half a cupful of scalded milk, three tablespoonfuls of shortening, half a teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar, and when lukewarm, stir in one cupful of compressed yeast mixed with one-fourth of a cupful of lukewarm milk; add two and a half cupfuls of flour; cut and work the dough into a loaf and let stand to rise, cut it down once, then let rise again and make into smooth balls. Cover and let stand until light. Shape for finger rolls and when again light, bake.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and luster or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by adding at any drug store for a bottle of "Weir's Sage and Sulphur Compound" which darkens the hair so naturally so even, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Weir's Sage and Sulphur Compound—that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the color and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance. The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Really prepared, and serves about 25.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a rough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly breaks the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Reproduces All Tonal Beauties

STILL the very latest and most advanced in phonographs is The Brunswick. This remarkable instrument has attracted nation-wide attention. Chiefly because of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction. This new development brings finer tone for every record, whatever make. No other instrument has these advanced ideas.

Now Brunswick Records

We bring now as a further contribution to the phonographic art our own make of records. We include all the fine standards of today, yet add what we consider a vast improvement. And this we know will be the verdict of the public.

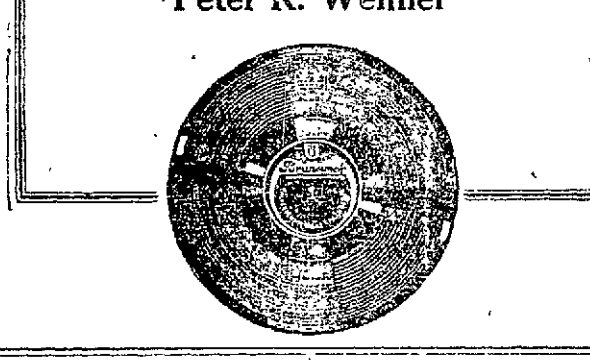

This is the secret—each Brunswick Record is interpreted by a noted director or an accomplished artist technically trained in the art of recording. Thus we unite the talent of the artist with the genius of the composer.

We feel sure that you will recognize the betterment brought out by this idea. We want you to judge Brunswick Records by those same severe tests with which people have judged Brunswick Phonographs. And that is by comparison. Remember—Brunswick Records will play on any phonograph with steel or fibre records.

PRODUCTION AND LEASES

The Atlantic Gulf Oil Corporation has three producing wells in Mexico, under lease and upon terms favorable to the company. These wells have an estimated potential production in excess of 250,000 barrels daily. One well located in the Naranjos field is undoubtedly the largest producing well in the world. In addition to the original 1,200 acres of land acquired by the company, it has secured further desirable leases on approximately 35,000 acres in the most promising producing area in Mexico.

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

The Company has about completed the following construction program:
Thirty-five miles of 10-inch pipe line.
Topping Plant with capacity of 30,000 barrels per day.
Pumping station at Terminal with capacity of 6,000 barrels per hour for loading tankers.
Twelve storage tanks with total capacity of 600,000 barrels.

EARNINGS

The Atlantic Gulf Corporation has closed contracts for the sale of 6,900,000 barrels of oil for the first six months' operation, and has sold or expects to sell for the second six months, 9,500,000 barrels, or a total of 16,500,000 barrels of oil for the year. Included in these contracts is the sale to the United States Government of 3,000,000 barrels of oil at the dock. The United States Shipping Board has agreed to furnish sufficient of its own tankers to transport a minimum of 30,000 barrels per day from the Tecumseh Terminal, and 15,000 barrels a day from another terminal.

Joseph F. Guffey, President of the Atlantic Gulf Oil Corporation, estimates these contracts will show net earnings, after all royalties, pumping charges, drilling and other expenses have been deducted, of at least $10,000,000 for the year.

The House of Whispers

By WILLIAM JOHNSTON

Illustrations by ERWIN MYERS

Copyright by Little, Brown & Co.

From one of the toilet tables I obtained some fine powder and opening the wall safe again I took out the jewel box and carefully dusted it over with the powder. I hoped that the powder would reveal markings of hands on the box, but either I was too inexperienced or my method was wrong, for I succeeded in obtaining no sort of result, beyond finding out what my own fingerprints looked like on a sheet of paper prepared with some home-made lampblack. After an hour or two of experimentation I gave it up as a bad job, and turned to the study of methods by which the notes might have been delivered.

The Gaston apartment was on the sixth floor of the building, which was surrounded by ordinary three and four-story dwelling houses. It must have been someone in the building, if not in the apartment itself. It would be quite possible for someone, on the floor above to have projected the notes through my window and that of Miss Bradford by attaching them to the end of a long stick. I made up my mind to ascertain who occupied the apartments above.

The mystery of the whispers did not seem to be of such easy solution. While I had been inclined at first to regard my own experience as a dream the coincidence of Miss Bradford and my great-uncle having had the same illusion convinced me that it was some claptrap devised by the plotters for proving on the fears of their intended victims.

Eagerly I waited for the coming of evening and from half past seven on I sat by my window waiting for Barbara's signal. It was nearly nine o'clock before I heard the three taps that had so startled me the evening before. Quickly I thrust my head out of the window and was rewarded by seeing hers appear at the same moment.

"We must not talk long," she warned me. "Someone might see us. Have you learned anything new?"

"Yes," I whispered. "In my uncle's diary I found several entries about the whispers."

"How strange!" she exclaimed.

"Where is Mr. Gaston?"

"I don't know."

"That's funny."

"It's more than that. It is decidedly odd that he left no word where he could be reached."

"I don't blame him," she almost sobbed. "I wish we could all get away off somewhere, away from it all."

"Don't worry. Everything we find out will help discover the plotters. Tell me from what part of your room did the sounds come?"

"Always from the same place, up in the corner, near the ceiling."

"I thought so," I answered. "That's where they came from in my room. That shows it is just some mechanical trick they are using in the hope of terrifying us. Do you know who lives on the floor above?"

"I haven't the slightest idea. Do you suspect them?"

"I suspect everybody until this mystery is solved," I replied almost savagely.

"Not so loud, they may hear you. Have you learned anything else?"

"No nothing. I questioned old Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Gaston's landlady. She knew nothing although she insisted that she had often heard footsteps when there was no one in the apartment. Of course it is only her imagination."

"I'm not so sure," Miss Bradford whispered. "I've heard them, too. They seemed to come right out of the wall."

"Why," I exclaimed in amazement, "that's just how she described them."

"Often, too, when I got up in the morning I have a strange feeling that there must have been someone in my room while I was asleep."

"How strange!" I muttered, more to myself than to her. "I wonder if it could be anyone walking in their sleep?"

"You mean—she hesitated—"my sister?"

"I don't mean anyone," I hastened to say. "I was only thinking aloud wondering if it could be a possible explanation. I have heard of innocent persons doing all sorts of things under hypnotic influence."

"I've read of that, too," she said soberly. "I wonder—"

She left the sentence unfinished, but I felt that the same thought had flashed into her mind as into mine. Was it possible that the mysterious Frenchman who had wronged her sister years ago had in some way recently gained an interview with her and had gotten her once more into his power? Could it be that under the spell of another's mind Claire Bradford herself had taken away the papers concerning the annulment of her marriage and was placing the notes in the blackmail plot?

"Look here," I said determinedly, "we've got to see each other somewhere tomorrow and talk this over. Where can we meet?"

"I'm afraid I can't manage it tomorrow. I'm busy with my mother and sister all day long. Tuesday, perhaps. But we mustn't talk here long or Good night."

"Good night," I called softly but her head had been already withdrawn, so quickly that I hardly knew whether she heard me. As I was about ready for bed I recalled that had spent most of the money I had in my pockets as I visited the bookcase where I had secreted my board and taking out a twenty-dollar bill, wrapped it about the three one-dollar bills I found left and put the roll in my trousers pocket. The next morning, as I was dressing ing, I happened to draw forth my money. I gazed at it horror-stricken. I distinctly recalled having wrapped the twenty-dollar bill about the three smaller bills. Now one of the dollar bills was on the outside.

I Gazed at It Horror Stricken

There before me was indisputable evidence that someone had been in my room while I slept, someone had gone through my pockets and had examined my money. Someone had put the dollar bill on the outside of the roll.

Who had done it? How had they got into the room?

CHAPTER VI.

Left alone for a moment by my companion, I sat there at the table in the crowded restaurant, idly watching the beautifully costumed women all about me, listening dreamily to the music of the orchestra observing with interest the graceful gyrations of the occasional couple who sought, the dancing floor in the center, when suddenly I was brought to myself by hearing a gruff voice saying:

"What'd you bring that crook in here for?"

"What do you mean?" I gasped in astonishment, looking up at a square shouldered man with a neatly trimmed black mustache who was standing beside my table.

"It's you I mean," he announced. "Don't you know you can't bring that kind of people in here?"

As explanation for my presence there in the White room of the famous Huntington hotel, let me say that my investigations into the perplexing chain of mysterious circumstances in which Barbara Bradford and I seemed to be each day becoming more firmly involved, had finally led me to deduce three different theories, each more or less plausible, and each involving an entirely different set of persons.

There were certain happenings and circumstances that made me sometimes wonder if the whole thing were not a base plot on the part of my great-uncle Rufus perhaps influenced by a desire for revenge or perhaps led on by an insane greed for still greater wealth.

Yet, on the other hand there were those entries in his diary about the mysterious voices. Apparently too, his wife and Mrs. Burke had heard them.

Did it not seem more likely that the arch plotter was Claire Bradford's husband?

This theory seemed far more tenable. While the Bradfords had heard nothing from him for several years the publication of Claire Bradford's engagement might have attracted his notice and inspired him to an attempt at blackmail. Yet how could he gain access to the wall safe where the divorce papers were kept, or how could he be dropping notes on the floor of Barbara Bradford's bedroom? How could he have stolen the Gaston pearls? It seemed incredible but still my thoughts kept returning to the possibility of his directing Claire Bradford's actions through hypnotic control. Once he had had influence over her sufficient to make her give up family, friends, home everything, to marry him. Had he, in some way unknown to Barbara Bradford, regained his control over her sister and was he using her as the unconscious tool for his villainies? She could have gained access to my room by walking along the ledge when all the house was still. Yet this theory explained neither the theft of the pearls nor great-uncle's peculiar actions, my own discharge nor the mysterious noises in the apartment. I had still a third theory.

Suppose a band of criminals was located in the apartment house on the floor above the Bradfords and me?

Access to either apartment would not be difficult. By short rope ladders they could easily reach either set of rooms. They would be so located that there would be little difficulty for them to devise mysterious sounds for terrifying the people in the apartment below. I recalled that in every case the voices and the footsteps seemed to come from somewhere up near the ceiling. Of course it seemed preposterous that a criminal band would lodge in a luxurious apartment house like this, yet, why not? Tenants in these buildings knew little about each other and cared less. There was no exchange of neighborly visits. Once having gained access to such a building by forged references so long as they paid their rent promptly no one in the building would bother his head about the character of any of the other tenants.

This last theory seemed the most plausible. Besides it was the easiest to work on. It ought not to be difficult to ascertain who lived in the two apartments above. Undoubtedly my best source of information would be Nellie Kelly the telephone operator.

Perhaps, too, she might be able to inform me of my great-uncle's whereabouts. More than likely he had left a forwarding address for his mail with her.

With a letter I had written to my mother I descended to the main floor and began a conversation with Miss Kelly by asking where was the near est place that I could buy stamps. As we chatted I began complaining how lonely it was, in the apartment and wound up by inviting her to dine with me that evening.

I had anticipated a ready acceptance of my invitation and was amazed to find it firmly refused. In a much confused manner she advanced a dozen reasons, or rather pretexts. She did not go out with the people of the house. Her mother would not like it. She did not know me well enough. Mr. Wick would discharge her if he heard about it.

From an unexpected source, though none the less unwelcome, I found an ally. Mr. Wick himself bobbed up from somewhere, apparently having overheard enough of our conversation to know what it was about.

"Why, of course, Mr. Nelson," he began in an ingratiating manner that was most repellent to me. "Miss Kelly'll be glad to go to dinner with you. It's part of her business to make things pleasant for the tenants."

It seemed to me that the girl's eyes flashed defiance at him and that she was still inclined to refuse, and I was about to explain resentfully that my invitation was not issued on a business basis, when into Wick's face came an ugly look, something almost threatening.

"Of course Miss Kelly will be glad to go with you," he repeated sharply. "Certainly," said the girl quickly, before I had a chance to speak, "if Mr. Wick thinks it is all right, I will be glad to go."

Her acceptance did not ring true. I was convinced that it was unwillingly given under some sort of compulsion from the odious Wick.

I met her, at her suggestion, in the parlor of one of the less pretentious hotels. In the hour that had elapsed since she left the apartment, she had exchanged her neat black working suit for more modish clothes. After one quick glance at her transformed appearance my mind was quickly made up as to what sort of a restaurant to take her. It was manifest that she was of the type that would enjoy to the utmost the costly whirl of the fashionable cafe of the moment. It was my purpose to give her such a delightful evening that she would be wishing to spend others in the same way, for I felt certain that she, perhaps better than anyone else, could supply me the information I wanted about the tenants in the building. I was sure it would be well worth my while to win her good graces, cost what it may. Calling a taxi, I bade the chauffeur take us to the "White Room," the very latest fashion in restaurants, where hordes of hectic pursuers of pleasure were wont to assemble to dine and dance. I observed the gleam of satisfaction that came into her eyes as she heard me mention our destination.

At first we talked, in Broadway fashion, of the theaters and restaurants, of the place we were in of the people at the tables about us but gradually I led the conversation to Miss Kelly herself and to her work in the apartment.

"It was funny, wasn't it," I said, "about Mr. Wick insisting on your coming with me? I had a notion he didn't like me."

Hitherto my companion had been most vivacious, chatting merrily, flashing back at my sallies with clever bits of that slangy repartee of which most of the metropolitan business girls are such clever mistresses. At my last remark a quick change came over her face. It was as if a mask had been set on between us behind which she was hiding from me.

"I guess he likes you," she answered guardedly. "I never heard him say one way or the other."

"While we're talking about the apartment," I went on, "did my great-uncle happen to leave a forwarding address with you? There are some things I want to send him—some pearls they left behind—and he has not written me yet where his address will be."

I had not intended to mention the Gaston pearls. I had slipped that phrase in on the spur of the moment, but little was I prepared for the astounding effect my words had upon her.

"The pearls?" she gasped, turning white. "You're going to send him the Gaston pearls?"

There was a note of amazement of incredulity in her tone.

"Excuse me," she said rising unexpectedly. "I gotta telephone."

Lydia U. Lowe, 819 10th St. gave the following statement March 16, 1911: "I was bothered with sharp pains in my back for about two years. I felt weak and tired when I got up mornings, too. I tried different remedies as well as consulting my doctor but I didn't seem to get any better. I saw in the local paper where many people had used Doan's Kidney Pills and been cured, so I got a box from Clark's Drug Store. I got a great deal of relief from the first box and I kept on taking them until I found I was entirely rid of the trouble."

On Aug. 9, 1919 Lydia Lowe said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me several years ago and the cure has lasted to this day. I believe highly in Doan's and I am pleased to renew my former endorsement."

LAWYER GAVE UP

Legal Light Wisely Retired From Unequal Combat.

Little Else to Do After Judge Had Said Thoroughly Proved the Eligibility of Colonel Jones as a Jurymen.

Presiding over a judicial district in the Tennessee mountains is an old gentleman who invariably demands of litigants, before the machinery of the court is set in motion: "Do you want book law or justice in this case?" "Justice," has always been promptly declared for, and his honor must have distributed it with a wise and kindly hand, inasmuch as he has been re-elected, almost unanimously, on every voting day ever since the Civil war.

Natives do not usually regard a lawyer as a necessity when a cause is to be decided by this lawyer of the hills. Each man states his case for himself, and the judge simply tells the witnesses to "tell the jury all about this here matter, so far as you air informed," and helps out with a few direct questions when the testimony seems not quite clear.

Not so long ago, however, "a foreigner"—from Kentucky—joined issues with a native, and imported a lawyer from Nashville. Among the other strange and unprecedented things that the lawyer did was to challenge certain of the men who were expected, as a matter of course, to form the jury. Being a jurymen is a recognized profession in that particular region, and the lawyer's objections occasioned both astonishment and anger in the breasts of the gray-bearded regulars.

"Colonel Jones has been on the jury every settin' of this court for thirty years," the old judge remonstrated gently, in one instance. "He always has proved powerful satisfactory to the court and to all others concerned. Of course, as we air goin' to have book law in this case, you can object to Colonel Jones if you want to, but I would personally like mighty well to know why you object to him."

"From his conversation, overheard by chance, I am convinced that this man would be unable to give proper weight to the evidence I shall introduce, your honor," the lawyer explained briskly. "He is unacquainted with the meaning of the most ordinary words."

"That so?" the old judge remarked, pushing up his spectacles and surveying Colonel Jones reprovingly. "Now, I always thought that he was right well along in words. What was it he didn't seem to know the right meanin' of?"

"The term 'preponderance of evidence,' your honor," the lawyer asserted, "was most absurdly construed by this man."

"Oh, I reckon not," the old judge interrupted, with a kindly smile. "I reckon you just misunderstood him. I am plumb sure that Colonel Jones knows as well as I do that preponderance of evidence means evidence previously pondered—don't you, colonel?"

"Objection withdrawn, your honor," the lawyer said weakly. Philadelphia Ledger.

Inspired by Joaquin Miller. Charles Wakefield Cadman, the famous composer, found inspiration for his sonata for the piano in a major, Op. 58, in Joaquin Miller's poem, "From Sea to Sea." Cadman said he prided himself on the inspiration he got from Miller's works in which he sang to the West of the United States.

Cadman's first movement showed the West before the white man found it, and naturally he had to ring in his eternal love for the Indian. Without being too much influenced by the poet Miller, Cadman tried to carry out his idea, his longing for the West. It may be taken as the pioneer's thoughts of the eastern or southern home he has left in quest for the new, unexplored land. Cadman also speaks of his pain of rejecting for the continent now constructed. Triumph, pride, usury, happiness, optimism, breadth and ecstasy are the things he tried to write into his compositions.

Finland Reaching for Trade. The Finnish Trans-Oceanic Trading company, a co-operative institution representing about 80 per cent of the manufacturing firms and merchants of Finland, is about to open a branch of its business in Australia. An option has been obtained by the company on a fleet of Finnish steamships and an effort will be made by the company to run the Baltic trade with Australia previously held by Germany. The company hopes to obtain the trade with Australia in paper, timber, turpentine and other goods that it had before the war through German agents, and with the elimination of German influence, will carry the products of Finland to Australia in a regular fleet of vessels running on a monthly schedule.

Och, Murder! "Both these samples smell like cheap goods to me."

"Cheap! These whiskies are the best on the market. They're both over ten years old."

"Then they're old enough to have better scents."

Something He Was Familiar With. "Come, my dear poet," the hostess finally begged, "say something to us!"

"Have you observed—duchess," he muttered, desperately. "That—this—year's paw-tickets are pink?"—London Tit-Bits.

Could Anything Add Joy to Spring, These New Suits Would Do It

Really, they are Youth itself. Not for years has one found such rollicking, insouciant styles, such vivid splashes of color, such subtle simplicity of line, each deliberately designed to emphasize carefree youthfulness, to enhance every natural grace.

Exquisite, indeed, are the fancy suits, the Etons, the box coats and the semi-tailleur models, set off by their braided trimmings, their gayly brocaded waistcoats or by the brilliant bodices of tricolette or Georgette which Milady will wear with them. The skirts of such suits are not too plain, either, many showing plaits, side plaits or accordion, while pockets are fancier than ever.

Suits at $55 and up

Among these are fine tricotines, Poiret twills, mens' wear serges and velvet checks showing all the new fashions in coats and skirts and featuring the season's most popular colors. Scores are navy blue, but there are also French blues, tans, taupe and black.

Of special interest will be the many suits for stouter figures, designed primarily to minimize one's curves to the fullest extent.

All sizes for women and misses.

Suits at $29.75 up

Particularly pleasing are these because they offer at a moderate price, suits which are just what so many women and girls need for spring, summer and fall wear, suits which will stand hard usage day after day, which will require a minimum of care to look ever good and which will meet almost any dress need.

Among them are Jerseys, serges and poplins in the lower prices and tricotines and tinseltones at $49.75 and higher.

A full range of sizes.

Was There Ever Such Beauty in Blouses?

Whether it is one of the new tricolettes in the strikingly vivid shades or a beaded and embroidered Georgette matters little. Both are fashionable and both are beautiful and either will provide just the bit of bright color, of delicate fabric which a navy serge or tricotine suit can stand so well.

Blouses at $11.95 up

In addition to Georgette and crepe de chine, one finds silk and wool crepe, tricolettes, (starting at $16.75) and beautiful, filmy lingerie blouses in the groups ranging in price from:

Blouse Specials

Among these are many of the newest styles in effects in crepe de chine and Georgette, including short sleeved models, which offer especially attractive values at $10.75
